Title: FIREARMS TRAINING MATTERS
CHICAGO DIVISION

Synopsis: Any firearms training involving skeet shooting at the FBI Chicago firearms range shall be immediately discontinued.

Details: AGC [REDACTED] advised DOJ attorneys (who are familiar with the Chicago firearms facility as a result of ongoing litigation) have opined, based on recent court decisions, that any firearms training involving skeet shooting be discontinued since the shotgun is fired toward Lake Michigan without the benefit of an intervening earthen berm. To be clear, skeet shooting at the range is not a mandated part of the firearms training program and is incorporated very infrequently. The skeet loads are comprised of steel shot, not lead, and it is unlikely that pellets reach the lake water after being fired. Out of an abundance of caution, however, it is directed that any training involving the use of the skeet facility, or any other proposed firearms training scenarios where discharged ammunition could reach the lake, be discontinued until further notice.
